

SYNC_DB_TO_GOOGLESHEET

PIZZA PLACE SALES

```
import mysql.connector

import pandas as pd

import gspread

from gspread_dataframe import set_with_dataframe

DB_CONFIG = {
    'host': 'localhost',
    'user': 'root',
    'password': '#####',
    'database': ' Pizza_Sales'
}

GOOGLE_JSON_FILE = "google_creds.json"
GOOGLE_SPREADSHEET_NAME = "Pizza Place Sales "

TABLE_TO_SYNC = {
    " Order_details": " Order_details "
    " Orders": " Orders "
    " Pizza_types": " Pizza_types "
    " Pizzas": " Pizzas "
}

def run_pipeline(): print(" 🍕 Step 1: Authenticating with Google Cloud...") try: gc = gspread.service_account(filename=GOOGLE_JSON_FILE) spreadsheet = gc.open(GOOGLE_SPREADSHEET_NAME) except Exception as e: print(f" ❌ Google Authentication/File Error: {e}") return
```

```

print(" 📌 Step 2: Connecting to local MySQL Server...") try:
    conn = mysql.connector.connect(DB_CONFIG)
except Exception as e:
    print(f" ❌ MySQL Connection Error: {e}")
    return

Step 3: Loop through table and update its corresponding worksheet
tab
for mysql_table, sheet_tab in TABLE_TO_SYNC.items():
    print(f"\n 🔄 Syncing: Database '{mysql_table}' ➡ Worksheet '{sheet_tab}'")

    try:
        # Pull the data from MySQL
        query = f"SELECT * FROM {mysql_table};"
        df = pd.read_sql(query, conn)
        print(f" 📄 Extracted {len(df)} rows from {mysql_table}.")

        # Open the specific worksheet tab
        worksheet = spreadsheet.worksheet(sheet_tab)

        # Wipe old rows and write the fresh data layout
        worksheet.clear()
        set_with_dataframe(worksheet, df, include_index=False, include_column_header=True)
        print(f" ✅ Successfully updated '{sheet_tab}'!") except gspread.exceptions.WorksheetNotFound:

        print(f" ❌ Error: Could not find a tab named '{sheet_tab}' at the bottom of your Google Sheet.")
    except Exception as e:
        print(f" ❌ Error processing {mysql_table}: {e}")

Clean up connection
conn.close() print("\n 🏁 Pipeline run complete! All data maps are fully updated.") run_pipeline()

```